

“Growing in Connectedness: Child Sexual Abuse in the Catholic Church:” follow up, October 2019

Fr James writes to inform parishioners,

“Many of us saw and were touched by the second BBC programme “Inside the Vatican” recently. It looked at the scandal of child sexual abuse in the Church and how we can work to make changes and not give up.

Now I would like to suggest ways of beginning OUR 2019 follow up together.

I have spent some time preparing with our principal facilitators of last year’s conference.

We suggest ways of beginning to work together; “To grow in connectedness and to discover the source of our power”.

If you would like to talk with me in person and confidentially, on phone or Skype about our ideas that we’d like to share, I’d be grateful. That would be a good way of preparing ourselves to work together, make connections and make a difference.

You can contact me any time this Sunday 20th October or any time in the week of 21st to 25th October. These would be fine for me. You can contact me on jl@jamesleachman.com or through the parishoffice@ealingabbey.org.uk

peace, Fr James
